Clonmacnoise is an ancient monastic site near Shannonbridge, County Offaly, and is a top visitor attraction in Ireland. A walk amongst the peaceful stone ruins of this famous place will conjure images of the saints and scholars of Ireland's renowned Golden Age of learning. Founded by St Ciaran in the mid-6th century, it became a great centre of religion and learning, visited by scholars from all over the world. Today, the site exists as a preserved ruin and visitors can see three high crosses, a cathedral, seven churches and two round towers.

Stories about Lough Derg and the legendary pilgrimage have spanned the centuries as far back as records go, with the spirituality of St Patrick being remembered and renewed every year by pilgrims. For over 1500 years pilgrims have come to Lough Derg and remarkably the Island continues to hold its appeal for young and old alike with people continuing to come for all kinds of reasons. Some come to reflect on life changing decisions, to come to terms with where they are at, to give thanks to God for joy in their lives, to overcome loss, to pray for themselves or a loved one.

THE DUBLIN DIOCESAN PILGRIMAGE TO LOURDES - FUND APPEAL

Each year the Dublin Diocesan Pilgrimage takes over 170 sick pilgrims to Lourdes. It is a hugely positive experience for these sick pilgrims and also provides valuable respite for their families and carers at home. Many thanks to Jean McDonald and Geraldine Conlon for organising the collections. They will be at the back of the church after masses to accept donations. Application forms are also available from the parish if anyone would like to apply to travel as one of the sick pilgrims.
